RECOMMENDED CITATION

mohammad looti (2025). RETINEX. PSYCHOLOGICAL SCALES. Retrieved from <https://scales.arabpsychology.com/?p=54845>

Theory proposed to explain color perception, brightness perception, and constancies, theorizing that the color of an object is not decided by spectral composition, but by a comparison of three different wavelengths of light absorption.

RETINEX: "Retinex reflects the fact that images are resultant of activity between the retina and the cortex."
